SHORT FILM SCRIPT

SCENE 1:

EXT. GRASSY FIELD – MORNING

CubeBot lies on the grassy field under a wide morning sky. In the distance, the massive World Tree towers above the land, and a grand castle is carved into its trunk. He watches knights training near the tree's roots, feeling small but determined.

CubeBot sits up, squinting at the castle. He grabs a wooden stick and mimics sword swings. He swings too hard, trips, and lands flat on the grass. Silence. He stares at the sky for a second and sighs. He gets up again, practicing a salute toward the distant castle, then lowers his hand slowly, gripping the stick tighter.

He straightens up and begins walking toward the town beneath the World Tree, the castle looming above him.

SCENE 2:

EXT. TOWN – DAY

The town is bustling with commotion. Soldiers rush through the streets, and villagers whisper nervously. CubeBot pauses, noticing the chaos.

Suddenly, a hooded little kid bumps into him.

KID
Sorry!

The kid dashes away. CubeBot checks his pockets — empty. He freezes.

CUBEBOT
Wait... my coins!

CubeBot looks up and sees the kid jumping across rooftops. He runs after him, weaving through alleys, dodging barrels and market stalls. He looks up repeatedly to track the kid as rooftops blur above him. The stone streets fade into dirt paths. The castle walls disappear behind him.

At the forest edge, the kid jumps down and disappears among the trees. CubeBot follows without thinking, soon realizing the town is gone. Only forest surrounds him. He walks one direction, then another, but the scenery looks the same. A soft singing begins to echo through the trees. CubeBot stops, listens, and slowly follows the sound, pushing branches aside until a soft light glows ahead.

SCENE 3:

EXT. DEEP FOREST – LATE AFTERNOON
CubeBot enters a deeper part of the forest. Glowing insects float through the air. The soft singing continues, coming from just beyond a tall bush.

He cautiously pushes the bush aside and finds FlowerGirl standing near a small clearing, surrounded by insects. Suddenly, footsteps approach. Guards rush into the clearing, surrounding FlowerGirl.

HEAD GUARD
Princess!

FlowerGirl glances back at CubeBot briefly before the guards escort her away. CubeBot remains kneeling, stunned. The forest quiets once more. He slowly stands, confused and dazed.

SCENE 4:

EXT. FOREST CLEARING – LATE AFTERNOON (NEXT DAY)
The next day, CubeBot returns to the forest at the same time. He approaches the tall bush from yesterday and pauses before pushing it aside. The clearing is there again, and FlowerGirl stands near the stream, humming softly, glowing insects floating around her.

CubeBot steps forward carefully. A twig snaps underfoot. FlowerGirl turns and sees him. He kneels quickly.

Your Highness... I didn't mean to intrude.

FLOWERGIRL
You don't have to kneel.

CubeBot stands awkwardly, avoiding eye contact.

I was just... curious why the Princess is out here.

FLOWERGIRL
It's the only place where I can breathe.

CubeBot looks surprised. FlowerGirl walks towards the tree. After a small hesitation, CubeBot sits nearby, not too close. They talk quietly, and she laughs lightly at something he says. CubeBot slowly relaxes. The sun lowers, painting the forest in warm orange tones. For the first time, he is not pretending to be a knight — he is just himself. They sit peacefully as the day fades.

SCENE 5:

EXT. FOREST CLEARING – SUNSET
FlowerGirl and CubeBot sit near the tree. Glowing insects drift lazily around them, painting the clearing with tiny sparks of light. CubeBot lets out an awkward laugh at something FlowerGirl said, and she smiles softly.

Suddenly, heavy footsteps crunch through the underbrush. Branches snap as a group of GUARDS rush into the clearing, weapons at the ready.

HEAD GUARD
Princess! You cannot wander off like this!

The guards halt abruptly when they notice CubeBot. Almost instinctively, they move in front of FlowerGirl, forming a protective barrier.

HEAD GUARD (suspicious)
Who is this?

CubeBot stiffens, raising one hand nervously.

CUBEBOT
I— I was just—

FlowerGirl steps forward, calm and composed.

FLOWERGIRL
He’s my personal bodyguard. Father assigned him to protect me.

CubeBot freezes as the guards scrutinize him. He has no armor, no uniform—just a small yellow robot. He straightens, attempting to look brave.

HEAD GUARD
Your Highness... he does not look like a royal guard.

FlowerGirl meets the guard’s gaze firmly.

FLOWERGIRL
He is Disguised.

Silence falls over the clearing. The guards exchange hesitant glances. Finally, the Head Guard nods in reluctant agreement.

HEAD GUARD
Very well. Please Go Back to the Castle As Soon as Possible

The guards begin escorting FlowerGirl away. As she passes CubeBot, she offers a small, reassuring smile. CubeBot remains frozen, processing everything. He glances at his small robotic hands, then toward the castle rising within the World Tree. This is no longer a dream. This is real.

SCENE 6:

INT. CASTLE COURTYARD – NIGHT

Knights stand guard. FlowerGirl faces them confidently.

FLOWERGIRL
He's my personal bodyguard.

The knights exchange looks, then bow slightly and step aside. CubeBot stands stiffly. FlowerGirl turns and walks toward the castle. CubeBot follows closely behind.

INT. CASTLE HALLWAY – CONTINUOUS

Their footsteps echo. Silence. CubeBot walks a few steps behind her. FlowerGirl keeps her eyes forward.

INT. PRINCESS'S ROOM – NIGHT

FlowerGirl enters first. CubeBot follows. He scans the room. His gaze stops. A trash can overflowing with crumpled tissues. CubeBot tilts his head. FlowerGirl quickly steps in front of it and hides it.

FLOWERGIRL
I-it's nothing!

CubeBot pauses.

CUBEBOT
Why did you tell them I was your bodyguard?

FlowerGirl looks down at her hands. Silence. She takes a small breath.

FLOWERGIRL
Because I wanted you to stay.

CUBEBOT
That's not logical.

She smiles faintly.

FLOWERGIRL
Maybe I don't care about logic.

She looks up at him.

FLOWERGIRL (softly)
You're the first friend I've ever had...
And I like you.

CubeBot freezes. His face lights flicker bright pink.

CUBEBOT
L-like... me?

FlowerGirl nods. The room grows painfully quiet. CubeBot turns away, overwhelmed. He walks toward the window.

FLOWERGIRL
Wait!

He pauses. She rushes to her drawer and pulls out a small pendant. She gently places it in his hand.

FLOWERGIRL
Show this to someone whenever you are in trouble.

CubeBot stares at it… then at her. Unable to respond, he climbs out the window. FlowerGirl stands still for a moment. Her shoulders finally relax. Then—She suddenly coughs. She covers her mouth. When she pulls her hand away… there's blood. Her smile fades. She quietly wipes it away before anyone can see.

SCENE 7:

EXT. CASTLE WALLS – NIGHT

CubeBot lands outside the castle walls, holding the pendant tightly in his hand. He looks back once… then turns to leave. Suddenly—Voices. Shouting. The sound of someone being hit. CubeBot moves toward the noise.

EXT. OUTSIDE THE CASTLE – CONTINUOUS

Two guards are roughing up a hooded figure on the ground.

GUARD 1
Thought you could steal from the royal market?!

GUARD 2
You thieves never learn.

They kick the figure. CubeBot steps forward.

CUBEBOT
Stop.

The guards freeze and turn.

GUARD 1
Who are you supposed to be?

CubeBot doesn't answer

t. The royal emblem glints under the moonlight. The guards immediately straighten.

GUARD 2
That's the princess's crest…

GUARD 1
Are you with Her Highness?

CubeBot nods slightly.

CUBEBOT
I will handle this.

The guards hesitate… then step back.

GUARD 1
As you wish.

They walk away, grumbling. Silence falls. The hooded figure slowly lifts his head. It's the Thief — bruised, breathing hard. CubeBot steps closer.

CUBEBOT
Identify yourself.

The Thief suddenly scrambles up and tries to run. CubeBot quickly grabs his arm.

THIEF
W-wait! Don't hurt me!

He struggles weakly.

THIEF (desperate)
I - I have a sister! She's sick! I'm the only one taking care of her!

CubeBot pauses. His grip tightens… then slowly loosens.

CUBEBOT
You steal to survive.

The Thief nods rapidly.

THIEF
I didn't want trouble. I just needed food.

CubeBot processes this. He looks down at the pendant in his hand… then back at the Thief. After a long pause—CubeBot releases him.

CUBEBOT
Go.

The Thief stumbles back, shocked.

THIEF
You're… letting me go?

CubeBot turns away.

CUBEBOT
Do not waste this chance.

The Thief hesitates… then runs off into the darkness. CubeBot stands alone under the moonlight. Holding the pendant. Thinking.

CUT TO BLACK

SCENE 8:

EXT. HILLSIDE OUTSIDE THE CASTLE – LATE AFTERNOON

CubeBot and FlowerGirl sit under a tree, their usual quiet hangout spot. FlowerGirl laughs softly at something CubeBot says. The wind blows gently.
Suddenly—FlowerGirl sways. Her smile fades. She collapses.

CUBEBOT
FlowerGirl?

No response.

CUBEBOT (louder)
FlowerGirl!

He catches her before she hits the ground. Her body is limp. Panic flashes across his glowing face.

EXT. CASTLE GATES – MOMENTS LATER

CubeBot runs toward the gates, carrying her in his arms.

CUBEBOT
Help! Open the gates!

The knights rush forward.

Your Highness?!

CUBEBOT
She collapsed! Help her!

The sky opens—Rain pours heavily. The knights take FlowerGirl carefully.

KNIGHT
To the seer! Quickly!

CubeBot follows as they rush into the city.

INT. SEER'S HOUSE – NIGHT

FlowerGirl lies on a small bed. The Seer places a glowing hand above her chest, eyes closed. CubeBot stands near the door, dripping rainwater. The room is silent. The Seer slowly opens her eyes.

SEER
She carries a rare illness... one found only among the Flower Race.

CubeBot steps forward.

CUBEBOT
Explain.

SEER
It is a sleeping curse of the body.
When it blooms completely... the victim falls asleep forever.

The words hit hard. FlowerGirl weakly opens her eyes.

FLOWERGIRL (softly)
How long... Do I have?

The Seer hesitates.

SEER
One week.

Silence fills the room except for the rain. CubeBot's fists tighten.

CUBEBOT
There must be a solution.

The Seer nods slowly.

SEER
There is a cure.
A flower known as the Undying Flower.

CubeBot looks up sharply.

CUBEBOT
Where?

Without waiting for more—He turns and runs out into the storm. The Seer's voice continues, but he's already gone.

SEER (quietly)
...This flower only exists in stories.

FlowerGirl stares toward the open door—Worried.

SCENE 9:

EXT. CITY STREETS – NIGHT

CubeBot runs through the empty streets. He clutches the pendant tightly. Determination replaces panic.

INT. GRAND LIBRARY – NIGHT

The large wooden doors burst open. CubeBot steps inside, soaked from the rain. The library is quiet... almost too quiet. Rows and rows of ancient books tower around him.

CUBEBOT (to himself)
Undying Flower... Undying Flower...

He moves quickly between shelves, scanning titles. He pulls out old tomes. Dust fills the air. He flips through pages rapidly. Nothing. He checks another section. Still nothing. Hours seem to pass. His movements become slower... frustrated.

CUBEBOT
There must be something.

A faint sound echoes—The tap of a cane against the floor. CubeBot turns. An old man stands at the end of the aisle. Cloaked. Mysterious. His eyes sharp.

OLD MAN
Searching for a legend, are you?

CubeBot straightens.

CUBEBOT
The Undying Flower.
Tell me what you know.

The old man slowly walks closer.

OLD MAN
Few dare to seek it.
Fewer return.

CubeBot doesn't move.

CUBEBOT
Where is it?

The old man stops in front of him. A faint smile forms.

OLD MAN
At the highest peak...
Of the tallest mountain among all mountains.

Silence. The weight of the words sinks in.

CUBEBOT
How do I find it?

The old man's expression becomes unreadable.

OLD MAN
The mountain finds those who are desperate enough.

The candles flicker. When CubeBot blinks—The old man is gone. Only silence remains. CubeBot grips the pendant tighter.

CUBEBOT (firmly)
I will find it.

He turns and walks toward the exit. Determined.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 10:

EXT. CITY OUTSKIRTS – DAWN

The sky is gray and quiet. CubeBot stands alone, fastening a small satchel across his shoulder. Inside: tools, rope, a map torn from the library, and the pendant. He looks toward the distant mountains.

CUBEBOT
Highest peak... of all mountains.

He turns and walks toward the castle walls one last time.

EXT. CASTLE WALLS – MORNING

The gates are closed. CubeBot pauses beneath the stone towers. A voice echoes from the shadows.

Leaving without saying goodbye?

CubeBot turns sharply. From behind a pillar steps the Thief. He slowly removes his hood. CubeBot freezes. Their faces are similar. Same markings. Same mechanical glow beneath their skin. The realization hits—They are from the same race. But the Thief still wears a paper bag over his head, crude eye holes cut out.

You...

The Thief shrugs casually.

THIEF
Didn’t expect that, huh?

He adjusts the bag.

THIEF
Name’s PaperBag.

CubeBot studies him carefully.

CUBEBOT
Why hide your face?

PaperBag looks away briefly.

PAPERBAG
Long story.

A beat. PaperBag steps forward.

PAPERBAG
You’re going after that flower, right?

CubeBot stiffens.

CUBEBOT
That is not your concern.

PaperBag crosses his arms.

PAPERBAG
It is now.

He smirks under the bag.

PAPERBAG
Let me be your squire.

CubeBot blinks.

CUBEBOT
Squire?

PAPERBAG
Yeah. I owe you.
And you look like someone who's about to climb a mountain that probably kills people.

CubeBot turns toward the distant peaks again. Silence. The wind blows.

CUBEBOT
This journey is dangerous.

PaperBag shrugs.

PAPERBAG
So is starving. So is getting beaten by guards.
At least this sounds meaningful.

CubeBot considers this. He grips the pendant. Then—

CUBEBOT
You will slow me down.

PaperBag grins.

PAPERBAG
Or I'll keep you alive.

A long pause. Finally—CubeBot starts walking. After a few steps—

CUBEBOT
Keep up, squire.

PaperBag lights up.

PAPERBAG
Yes, sir!

He runs to catch up. The two figures walk toward the distant mountains—A new partnership formed.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 11:

EXT. MOUNTAIN PASS – MORNING

Cold wind howls through the narrow mountain path. Loose gravel shifts beneath their feet as CubeBot and PaperBag climb the steep, rocky trail. The peaks tower above them, hidden in mist.

PAPERBAG
You sure this is the right way?

CUBEBOT
The highest peak would not be easy to reach.

A low rumble interrupts them. PaperBag freezes.

PAPERBAG
Uh... do mountains normally growl?

The ground trembles. CRACK. Rocks begin to loosen from above.

CUBEBOT
Move!

A massive LANDSLIDE crashes down the pass. Boulders thunder toward them. CubeBot grabs PaperBag and pulls him close, shielding him with his armored body as rocks slam around them. Dust fills the air. They dodge left—A boulder smashes where they were standing seconds ago. PaperBag runs but his foot slips on loose gravel. He slides toward the edge.

PAPERBAG
CubeBot!

Without hesitation—CubeBot lunges and grabs his arm at the last second. PaperBag dangles over a steep drop. More rocks tumble past them. CubeBot strains—Slowly pulling him back up. They collapse onto solid ground as the last of the rocks settle. Silence. Only the wind remains. PaperBag sits up, breathing hard.

PAPERBAG
Okay... I take it back.
This is definitely trying to kill us.

CubeBot stands and offers him a hand.

CUBEBOT
Then we must climb faster.

PaperBag takes his hand. They look up at the towering peak ahead—Bruised. Covered in dust. But still standing. They climb over the fallen debris and continue upward. Determined.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 12:

EXT. ENCHANTED FOREST – DAY

After surviving the mountain pass, CubeBot and PaperBag step into a dense, glowing forest. Tall trees twist toward the sky. Their leaves shimmer faintly, as if breathing. The air feels... alive.

PAPERBAG
I don’t like this place.

The ground beneath them pulses slightly. Suddenly—The wind stops. Silence. Then—The trees begin to CREAK. Roots burst from the soil. The forest floor splits apart in jagged cracks.

PAPERBAG
Is the forest moving?!

Vines whip through the air like snapping ropes. A violent surge of glowing pollen explodes from the trees, forming a swirling storm. A Bloomstorm — a natural disaster unique to the Enchanted Forest. CubeBot shields his optics.

CUBEBOT
Stay close!

PaperBag grabs onto him as the storm intensifies. Branches fall. Roots twist like serpents. A massive tree crashes in front of them, blocking the path. CubeBot scans rapidly. He grabs PaperBag and pulls him beneath a stone outcrop as glowing spores whirl violently around them. After a tense moment—The storm slowly dies down. The vines retreat. The forest becomes calm again... as if nothing happened. PaperBag peeks out.

PAPERBAG
I officially hate magical nature.

A heavy thud shakes the ground. From between the trees emerges a massive stone figure—MR. GOLEM

And perched on his shoulder is a small, wooden creature with twig-like limbs—TWIGG

Twigg tilts his head curiously.

TWIGG
Visitors.

Mr. Golem’s deep voice rumbles like distant thunder.

MR. GOLEM
Few survive the Bloomstorm.

CubeBot steps forward cautiously.

CUBEBOT
We seek the highest peak. The Undying Flower.

Twigg gasps softly. He hops down from Golem’s shoulder and circles them.

TWIGG
Brave... or foolish.

Mr. Golem kneels slightly, studying them.

MR. GOLEM
The path ahead is not meant for ordinary travelers.

CubeBot stands firm.

CUBEBOT
We are not ordinary.

A pause.

Twigg smiles faintly.

TWIGG
Then perhaps... you may continue.

Mr. Golem slowly raises his massive arm and points deeper into the forest—toward a narrow path hidden behind ancient trees.

MR. GOLEM
Follow the roots that glow at dusk.
They will lead you beyond the forest.

CubeBot nods. PaperBag whispers—

PAPERBAG(Whispering)
Why do all helpful beings speak in riddles?

Twigg giggles. CubeBot looks forward. The journey continues. They walk toward the glowing path as Mr. Golem and Twigg watch silently.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 13:

EXT. WATER FOREST – DAY

Crystal-clear streams weave between glowing blue trees. Mist floats above the water's surface. The atmosphere is calm... almost sacred. CubeBot and PaperBag sit near a shallow pool, catching their breath. PaperBag splashes water on his face.

PAPERBAG
Okay... I miss the normal dangerous forest. This one feels suspiciously peaceful.

CubeBot stares at the reflection of the sky in the water. Suddenly—The water ripples. From the center of the pool rises a translucent figure—WATER SPIRIT.

From behind a white-barked tree steps WHITEY, calm and watchful. PaperBag nearly falls backward.

PAPERBAG
Why does everything here rise dramatically?!

Whitey ignores him, looking at Water Spirit.

WHITEY
They have crossed the mountain and survived the Bloomstorm.

WATER SPIRIT
Yes... and yet their resolve remains unbroken.

CubeBot stands.

CUBEBOT
Why are you guiding us?

Whitey steps closer.

WHITEY
We do not guide.

Water Spirit's voice echoes gently.

WATER SPIRIT
We challenge.

The water around them swirls softly.

WHITEY
For centuries, many have sought the Undying Flower.

WATER SPIRIT
Most seek it for power. For immortality. For greed.

Whitey looks directly at CubeBot.

WHITEY
You seek it for someone else.

Silence. CubeBot grips the pendant.

CUBEBOT
I will reach it.

Water Spirit studies him... then slowly raises both hands. From the water, objects rise— Climbing hooks. Enchanted rope. Ice-resistant gloves. The items float toward CubeBot and PaperBag.

WATER SPIRIT
The next ascent will test not strength... but sacrifice.

CubeBot takes the tools. PaperBag hesitates but grabs his share. Water Spirit turns his gaze toward PaperBag. The water grows still.

WATER SPIRIT
The mountain ahead devours the unprepared.

A pause.

WATER SPIRIT (firmly)
One of you will not make it if both continue.

PaperBag stiffens. CubeBot steps forward.

CUBEBOT
We continue together.

Whitey slowly shakes his head.

WHITEY
The higher you climb, the harsher it becomes.

Water Spirit looks directly at PaperBag.

WATER SPIRIT
If you proceed… you may become a burden.

Silence falls heavily. PaperBag looks down at his hands. The playful tone disappears.

PAPERBAG
He’s faster. Stronger. Built for this.

CubeBot turns to him.

CUBEBOT
You are my squire.

PaperBag lets out a small, weak laugh.

PAPERBAG
Yeah… and squires don’t outrank mountains.

He removes one of the climbing hooks and places it back in CubeBot’s hand.

PAPERBAG (softly)
You need to reach that flower.

A long pause. CubeBot’s grip tightens. Water flows gently around them. PaperBag steps back toward the edge of the forest.

PAPERBAG
I’ll wait here.
Try not to die, okay?

CubeBot says nothing. After a moment—He nods once. Whitey steps aside, revealing a narrow, upward trail where the forest thins into jagged cliffs. Water Spirit slowly sinks back into the pool.

WATER SPIRIT (echoing)
Only the one willing to lose everything… reaches the peak.

CubeBot looks at PaperBag one last time. Then—He turns and begins the climb alone. PaperBag watches him disappear into the mist. The Water Forest returns to stillness.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 14:

EXT. MOUNTAIN FOOT – DAY

The Water Forest fades behind him. Ahead stands the mountain — impossibly tall, its peak piercing the clouds. The wind howls like a warning. CubeBot stands alone at the base. He looks back once. Far below, barely visible—PaperBag watches silently.

CubeBot tightens the straps of the enchanted gloves given by the Water Spirit. He hooks the climbing rope to his side.

Then—He begins.

EXT. LOWER CLIFFSIDE – CONTINUOUS

The first stretch is steep but manageable. CubeBot drives a climbing hook into the rock.

CLANG.

He pulls himself upward. Loose stones tumble down past him. His mechanical fingers strain against the jagged surface. The wind grows stronger as he climbs higher.

Hours pass.

EXT. MID-MOUNTAIN – LATER

Cold fog surrounds him. The rock becomes sharper, more unstable. A section breaks under his weight—

CRACK.

He slips. His body slams against the cliffside. For a brief second, he dangles over open air—Held only by the rope. His grip trembles.

Below him—Nothing but clouds. He slowly regains control, climbing again. His movements are no longer precise. They're heavy. Forced.

EXT. HIGHER ASCENT – AFTERNOON

Ice coats the rocks now. His gloves scrape against frozen stone. His joints move slower in the cold. The wind screams across the cliffs, nearly knocking him sideways. He drives another hook in—But misses. He tries again. And again. Finally—CLANG.

It holds. He pulls himself upward, breathing harder though he doesn't need air. His internal systems flicker slightly. Low power warning pulses faintly in his optics. He ignores it.

EXT. NEAR THE PEAK – SUNSET

The sky burns orange and purple. CubeBot is barely climbing now. His movements are slow. Unsteady. One arm shakes violently as he reaches for a ledge. He nearly collapses over it—But manages to drag himself onto solid ground. He lies flat against the cold stone. Still. Silent. The wind batters him. After a long moment—He pushes himself onto his knees. The pendant falls from his grasp, clinking against the stone. He stares at it. Images flash through his mind—FlowerGirl smiling. Her collapsing.

"One week."

He forces himself up again. Step. Drag. Step. Drag. His systems flicker harder now. His body is scratched, dented, and dusted in frost.

Finally—He reaches the summit.

EXT. MOUNTAIN PEAK – CONTINUOUS

Above the clouds. The world below looks distant. CubeBot stumbles forward. Weak. Exhausted. His legs give out. He collapses onto the peak's frozen ground—Barely conscious.

But he made it.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 15:

EXT. MOUNTAIN PEAK – AFTERNOON

The sky glows pale gold above the clouds. CubeBot kneels weakly on the frozen summit. At the center of the peak—A single glowing flower grows from the stone. Soft light pulses from its petals.

The Undying Flower.

CubeBot crawls toward it. His vision flickers. Warning lights flash faintly in his optics. He reaches out—His trembling fingers gently wrap around the stem. He pulls it free. The flower glows brighter in his hands. For a brief moment—Everything is quiet.

Then—

His vision distorts. The light becomes blinding. CubeBot collapses. Darkness.

EXT. GRASSY FIELD – DAY (DREAMLIKE)

Warm sunlight. Soft wind. The same grassy field where it all began. CubeBot lies on the ground. No mountain. No snow. No pain. A familiar voice calls out—Echoing.

FLOWERGIRL (V.O.)
CubeBot...

He stirs. FlowerGirl kneels beside him, gently shaking him. Her expression is worried.

FLOWERGIRL
Wake up... please wake up...

Her voice begins to echo unnaturally—Repeating. Layering. Growing louder.

FLOWERGIRL (ECHOING)
Wake up... wake up... wake up...

CubeBot clutches his head. The sound reverberates violently through his mind. The field flickers. The sky distorts. The echo becomes overwhelming—Sharp. Piercing.

CUBEBOT
Stop—

Everything shatters into white.

EXT. MOUNTAIN PEAK – CONTINUOUS

CubeBot gasps and jolts upright. Snow. Wind. Cold. The flower is still clutched tightly in his hand. His systems struggle to stabilize.

He sways— Almost falling again. A voice cuts through the wind.

PAPERBAG
Hey! Stay with me!

CubeBot blinks. PaperBag kneels beside him, gripping his shoulders. Covered in frost and dirt—Breathing heavily.

CUBEBOT (weakly)
You... stayed behind.

PaperBag lets out a tired laugh.

PAPERBAG
Yeah. About that.

He shakes him lightly.

PAPERBAG
You really thought I'd let you collapse alone up here?

CubeBot's vision slowly clears. The storm begins to calm. PaperBag notices the glowing flower in CubeBot's hand. His voice softens.

PAPERBAG
You found it.

CubeBot looks down at it. The light still pulses faintly. But he is barely holding on. The wind howls once more across the peak. Two figures at the top of the world—One barely conscious. The other refused to leave.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 16:

EXT. ROAD TO THE CASTLE – DAY

The sky is overcast but calm. CubeBot and PaperBag run down the dirt road leading back to the kingdom. CubeBot clutches the glowing Undying Flower carefully in both hands. His movements are slower than before—still weak from the climb—but determined. PaperBag runs beside him, glancing nervously at the castle ahead.

PAPERBAG
We made it... we actually made it.

CubeBot says nothing. His focus is locked on the towering castle gates in the distance.

EXT. CASTLE COURTYARD – CONTINUOUS

They pass through the outer town. The streets are strangely quiet. No cheers. No royal guards lining the path. Just silence. PaperBag slows.

PAPERBAG
Why does this feel... wrong?

CubeBot keeps moving.

EXT. CASTLE GATES – MOMENTS LATER

The massive gates remain closed. Armed guards stand firm. The HEAD GUARD steps forward.

HEAD GUARD
State your business.

CubeBot steps closer.

CUBEBOT
We have returned with the cure.

The guards exchange skeptical looks.

HEAD GUARD
The castle is not open to wanderers.

PaperBag tenses. CubeBot slowly raises his hand. He reveals the pendant. The royal crest glints in the daylight. The Head Guard's expression shifts immediately. He steps closer, examining it.

HEAD GUARD
That belongs to the Princess.

CubeBot nods once.

CUBEBOT
She entrusted it to me.

A heavy pause. The Head Guard straightens and signals the other guards.

HEAD GUARD
Open the gates.

The massive doors creak open. The Head Guard turns back to CubeBot.

HEAD GUARD
Follow me.

CubeBot grips the flower tighter. PaperBag exhales in relief. The two enter the castle grounds, escorted inside. The gates close behind them with a heavy thud. The quiet inside feels heavier than before.

FADE OUT.

SCENE 17:

INT. PRINCESS' ROOM – DAY

The room is heavy with silence.Curtains are drawn halfway. Sunlight barely reaches the bed. The Princess lies pale and still. Around her stand the KING, several GUARDS, the HEAD GUARD, and the DOCTOR. Whispers fill the room.

Suddenly—

The doors burst open. CubeBot enters, followed closely by PaperBag. Murmurs ripple through the crowd.

GUARD
A peasant?

ANOTHER GUARD
Inside the royal chamber?

The King steps forward, stern.

KING
Explain yourselves.

CubeBot steps ahead without hesitation. In his hands—The glowing Undying Flower. The room falls silent as its soft light fills the space.

CUBEBOT
This will cure her.

The Doctor's eyes widen.

DOCTOR
The Undying Flower...?

CubeBot moves closer and places it carefully into the Doctor's hands.

CUBEBOT
Use it.

The Doctor studies the flower only for a second— Then nods firmly.

DOCTOR
Boil water. Prepare the infusion. Quickly!

Servants rush into action. The petals are carefully ground and mixed into a glowing liquid. CubeBot stands still beside the bed, watching. PaperBag stays near the wall, nervous. The Doctor gently lifts the Princess and lets a few drops fall between her lips. The room holds its breath. Moments pass. Nothing. The King closes his eyes. CubeBot's hands tighten. Then— A faint glow spreads across the Princess's chest. Color slowly returns to her face. Her fingers twitch. Gasps echo through the room.

Her eyes flutter—Open. Soft. Confused. Alive.

FLOWERGIRL (weakly)
CubeBot...?

CubeBot steps forward, overwhelmed. The King looks stunned. The guards lower their weapons. The Doctor exhales in relief.

INT. PRINCESS' ROOM – NEXT MORNING

Sunlight fills the room brightly now. The Princess sits upright in bed, smiling softly. The King stands proudly nearby. CubeBot stands at the window. PaperBag grins from the corner. FlowerGirl looks at CubeBot. Her smile is warm. Alive. The pendant rests once more around her neck. CubeBot says nothing— But his posture softens. Outside, the kingdom feels alive again.Peace restored.

FADE OUT.

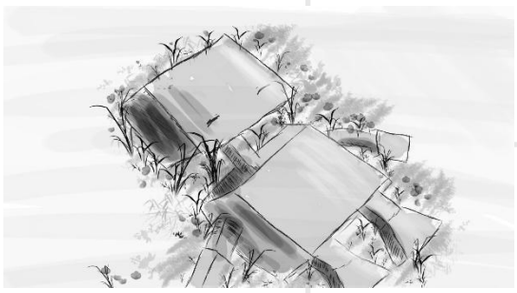

THE END.
